

Using the Rights & Democracy Network Logo and Name

- This logo is used across Canada by all delegations and by the Network
- This logo is recognized by students and partners.
- This logo helps you project a professional image.
- This logo is to be used with care:
 - To ensure coherence, this logo is the only one you can use when you represent the delegation.
 - The color of the logo and the proportions cannot be modified.
 - Be careful not to create confusion between the Network logo and the Rights & Democracy logo, which cannot be used without the written permission of Rights & Democracy.
 - Because of the autonomy given to each delegation within the Network, please be sure to always use the terms “Rights & Democracy Network Delegation at the University X”.
 - Think big! The words Rights & Democracy Network are capitalized. The word “delegation” is NOT capitalized, unless it is used as part of the official name of a delegation (e.g. “Rights & Democracy Network Delegation at the University X”).
- You may download the logo of the Network in different formats from the Resources section at www.dd-rd.net.
